STOLEN AUTO IS RECOVERED HERE

F. E. Jerrell is Arrested at Indianapolis Charged With Theft of Automobile.

TAKEN FROM DETROIT, MICH.

Accused Man Drives A Car Here to Visit His Father—Gets Telephone Call from Indianapolis.

J. T. Abell, chief of police, and Officers Wallace and Sensback Monday evening recovered an alleged stolen Buick automobile which was driven to this city Friday night by Frank E. Jerrell who was accompanied by his wife. While here Jerrell and his wife visited his father, Oscar Jerrell, and family in Glenlawn.

The local police received a call from the Indianapolis police station Sunday giving them a description of the Buick car which was stolen from Detroit several days ago and instructed them to arrest Jerrell who is alleged to have stolen the machine.

The officers learned that Jerrell had gone to Indianapolis Sunday and that his wife had employed an Anderson boy who lives in Glenlawn to drive her to Holton, where her parents reside. The police ascertained that she was to return Monday evening, and they were at the Jerrell home to take charge of the car when she returned. The machine was placed in a local garage by the local police.

Mrs. Jerrell was called to the police station this morning and questioned about the automobile. She told the chief of police that she left Detroit, Mich., about 2 o'clock a.m. on the morning of October 14 in company with her husband in the Buick car. They were accompanied by two friends of Jerrell's one of whom drove a Dodge and another a Ford. She claims that she did not know the cars were stolen and that she had been led to believe by her husband that he was engaged in the business of buying and selling second hand cars.

Mrs. Jerrell told Chief Abell that her husband received a long distance telephone call Sunday morning from one of his friends saying "come to Indianapolis at once." The party calling her husband did not give his name and her husband supposed it was one of the men who accompanied him from Detroit. Before leaving for Indianapolis in response to the telephone call Jerrell told his wife that he would have a new battery shipped from Indianapolis for the car, as the one on the car was weak and had given them considerable trouble. The battery arrived this morning and was delivered to the police station.

Two Indianapolis detectives arrived here this afternoon to take the car back to Indianapolis. They stated that the two men with whom Jerrell is alleged to be implicated, in stealing several automobiles, have been arrested and were all being held in the Indianapolis jail awaiting the arrival of officers from Detroit to return them there to face grand larceny charges.

The Indianapolis officers stated that Jerrell was picked up on the street in Indianapolis Monday afternoon and was placed under arrest. Jerrell is well known in this city having been born and reared here. He was employed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for sometime. Mrs. Jerrell is at the home of her father-in-law in Glenlawn. It is charged that the three men arrested stole a Dodge automobile from Indianapolis and made the trip to Detroit. The Dodge car was sold in that city and the supposition is that the men intended to bring the three Detroit automobiles to Indianapolis and dispose of them. The engine and license numbers of the Buick had been changed when the car was brought here.

Miss Ruby Sumner returned home Monday evening after a four months visit with relatives and friends in California.

AUTHORIZATION OF BONDS FOR $122,000

Commission Grants Petition of Interstate Company to Sell First and Refunding Issues.

FOR EXTENSION OF PROPERTY

One Series of $109,400 to Reimburse Treasury and Another of $12,600 as Refunding Issue.

Authority for the Interstate Public Service Company to sell bonds to the amount of $122,000 to reimburse the treasury for extensions already made and for refunding purposes has been granted by the Indiana public service company. The plants to carry the bond issues are: Seymour Public Service Company, Lebanon Heating Company, Citizens Electric Light and Power Company of Lebanon, Crown Point Electric Company and Bedford Heat, Light and Power Company.

The notice given by the Indiana public service commission is self-explanatory:

1. A utility was authorized to issue and sell at not less than 80 per cent of par and accrued interest, $109,400 of first and refunding mortgage 30-year 5 per cent gold bonds, for the purpose of reimbursing its treasury for 75 per cent of such part of the cost of extensions, additions and improvements, as it is permitted under its mortgage to fund in bonds.

2. A public utility was authorized to issue and sell at not less than par $12,600 of first and refunding mortgage 30-year 5 per cent gold bonds, for the purpose of refunding an equal amount of underlying bonds, which it had retired under the terms of their respective mortgages.

On August 10, 1919, the Interstate Public Service Company filed with the Commission a petition for authority to issue $122,000 of first and refunding mortgage thirty year five per cent gold bonds, due April 1, 1943, at not less than 80 per cent of par and accrued interest. Of the proposed issue $12,600 are to reimburse the company for the retirement of small amounts, totalling $12,600, of the bonds of the following underlying companies:

Lebanon Heating Company; Citizens Electric Light and Power Company of Lebanon; Crown Point Electric Company; Seymour Public Service Company;

The remaining $109,400 of the proposed issue are to reimburse its treasury for seventy five per cent of the cost of additions, extensions and improvements made between February 1, 1918 and June 30, 1919 to the extent of $208,629.99, from which amount $62,980 has been deducted in accordance with the depreciation reserve fund provision of its mortgages, and $25,976.71 has been deducted on account of the sale of abandoned and obsolete property. To this amount is added $375.38, representing the balance for which petitioner is entitled to issue bonds brought forward from the authorization under the last previous petition.

After due notice, the matter was heard at the offices of the Commission, September 11, 1919. The Commission being fully advised, finds that petitioner should be authorized to issue $122,000 of first and refunding mortgage thirty year five per cent gold bonds, maturing April 1, 1943, for the above purposes. The Commission further finds that $12,600 of such bonds, being issued for the purpose of refunding previous bond issues, should not be sold for less than par and accrued interest, and that the remaining $109,400 should be sold at not less than eighty per cent of par and accrued interest. It is therefore ordered by the public service commission of Indiana, that the Interstate Public Service Company be, and it is, authorized to sell or issue at par $12,600 of

TO GO IN FORCE OCTOBER 28

Possession After February 1 is Prima Facie Evidence of Intent to Violate Law.

The prohibition enforcement measure which has been passed by the house and senate and is now before President Wilson for his signature is the most drastic law of its kind ever enacted in this country. It is expected that the president will permit the bill to remain unsigned until October 28 when it will automatically become law without executive action. The bill contains provisions which are of interest to every individual and even the party who rents a building for the purpose of liquor sales is held responsible for the payment of fines upon the violator.

Violations are to be investigated by commissioners of internal revenue and reported to local United States attorneys. Commissioners are allowed to swear out warrants giving them a right to search for liquor and arrest the offenders.

WILSON WRITES LETTER RELATIVE TO CONFERENCE

President's Condition is Improved After Restless Night Physicians State.

By United Press

Washington, Oct. 21—President Wilson did not sleep so well last night, but his condition is improved this morning, according to a bulletin issued today. The president wrote a letter to Secretary Lane relative to the threatened destruction of the national industrial conference.

The physicians advised against it, but were forced to yield both because of Wilson's wishes and the pressure brought to bear by high officials of the government for him to take a hand.

Participation by the President in the industrial conference does not mean any general resumption of work will be permitted, Grayson said.

The prescription of a complete and absolute rest will remain in force, except in matter of unusual foment where executive action is imperative, he declared.

The cabinet met again today with Secretary Lansing presiding. Discussion of the threatened coal strike was hampered by the absence of Secretary of Labor Wilson who has charge of the attempted arbitration proceedings.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIK FORCES PUSH TOWARDS PETROGRAD

Several Towns in Vicinity of City Have Been Taken, Official Dispatches Say.

By United Press

London, Oct. 21—The siege of Petrograd is progressing favorably for the anti-bolshevik forces, according to official and semi-official dispatches received here today.

A communiqué of the British war office said the capture of Gatchina and Krasnoe Selo, to the southwest, had been confirmed and that cavalry detachments had completed the work of cutting off Petrograd from all communication with the interior.

An official dispatch from Helsinki reported Gen. Yudenitch had occupied Pulkovo hill, with its important observatory, while a report from Copenhagen said Yudenitch had moved his headquarters to Czarkoe Selo.

The Bolsheviks, in addition to increasing their stores of ammunition and guns, moved great quantities of food into the city.

NEW PROHIBITION BILL IS DRASIC

tracts unfit for beverage use, vinegar and preserved sweet cider.

Liquids manufactured after the bill goes into effect may remain in United States bonded warehouses and the alcohol content reduced to bring it within the law, or withdrawn to be denatured.

Beer containing less than one-half of one per cent alcohol may be sold but not under the name of beer, ale or porter.

Places where intoxicating drinks are sold are to be declared common nuisances and the fines imposed shall rest as liens against the property if the owner had guilty knowledge of what was going on in his building. When such a place is discovered the law provides that an injunction may be issued to stop the illicit sale and prevent removal of liquor.

Liquor which is seized may be destroyed or delivered to an agency for mechanical or scientific uses, or sold to persons having permits to purchase it for such purposes.

Distillers and bonded warehouses may, under the law, upon the filing of a bond and the obtaining of a permit, be used as industrial alcohol plants. The commissioner of internal revenue is authorized to issue regulations governing industrial alcohol plants, to prevent illegal use of alcohol and develop the non-beverage alcohol industry.

Penalties under the dry law are varied, ranging from prison sentences to fines, according to what section of the law is violated. When the eighteenth amendment to the constitution goes into effect, next January, many more provisions of the law become operative. These include regulation of physicians, who cannot prescribe liquor unless they are in active practice and licensed and the physician must believe it will afford relief to the patient. Not more than one pint may be prescribed within ten days.

Prescriptions must be made on a form supplied by the internal revenue commissioner, with stubs, like a check book—the book to be turned in after all blanks are used, for the official records. No prescription may be filled more than once and druggists must keep a record, similar to a poison record, of each sale, time, place, etc.

Advertising, manufacture and sale of tablets or formulas for making liquor at home is prohibited.

Advertising of liquor in any way is made illegal.

Even the giving of information as to where it may be obtained is law-breaking. Vehicles used for transporting it shall be seized.

With regard to possession of alcoholic drinks, the act says possession after February 1, 1920, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to violate, except liquor in private homes, legitimately purchased before the law went into effect. This liquor may be used only for the personal consumption of the owner, his family and guests. Private dwellings cannot be searched unless suspected the beverage is being sold in them, or part of the house is used for business purposes. Hotel and lodging house rooms which are transiently used may be searched. Those permanently occupied by the same persons are regarded as private dwellings.

Buildings used for selling liquor may be closed for a year at the option of the court.

If anyone is injured by a drunken person the one who sold the liquor may be sued, or the one who sold the drinker where to get it may be sued.

There are many other sections regulating the business of analyzing suspected drinks, etc., and setting up the legal machinery to enforce the law.

plans for a celebration for the members. It was decided at the meeting that it was too late for the post to complete plans for a public celebration and it is possible that the members will be entertained with a supper, smoker and some kind of musical entertainment.

The local post drew up resolutions at the meeting Monday evening endorsing the Red Cross and tendering support to the local Red Cross chapter in the drive which is planned for the near future. The resolution follows:

An extensive campaign for membership is planned during the next few weeks and an effort will be made to get every man eligible to become a member in Seymour and the surrounding vicinity to join the local post. A membership committee composed of George Hoffman, O. H. Holder and Carlyle Allen, was appointed to make plans for the campaign. An effort will be made to get all ex-service men to join before November 11 as persons joining before that day are considered charter members. The local post hopes to increase its membership to two hundred within the next few weeks.

The Seymour post plans to give a public entertainment during the holidays for the purpose of raising funds for the local organization. The entertainment will consist of a burlesque on army life both in America and France, which promises to be the funniest and best home talent show ever staged in Seymour. The show will be given at the Majestic theatre and rehearsals for the entertainment will be started within a short time. Seymour has some excellent talent among ex-service men who have returned. The show promises to be the biggest event of the season.

Another meeting of the post will be called soon at which time final plans for the Armistice day celebration will be announced.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief To Rose and Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make It Yourself At Home At Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing hay fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time hay fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through pharmacists to all hay fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get a one ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily snuff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work; but oftentimes simple natural remedies are the best as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

A New Day for Franklin College.

At the recent state convention of the Baptists of Indiana, held at Fort Wayne, not only was Franklin College enthusiastically endorsed and the administration of President Goodell heartily approved, but the Convention also pledged itself to raise the money for the new science building this coming year.

The College has previously announced that it needed not less than a million and a quarter of dollars for buildings and endowment. This program was also endorsed and the Convention assumed the responsibility for financing any enterprise at the College.

In addition to this, the Convention put into its budget for the coming year an item of $10,000 for current expenses which will make it possible for the College to increase the salary of the members of the faculty to not less than two thousand dollars.

The Freshman Class this year is about as large as was the entire student body in 1913. The present enrollment is the largest in the history of the College.

MAHRENHOLZ SURE OF TOTAL SUCCESS

Evansville Man Confident Trutona
Soon to Relive His Troubles.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 20—"I had to lay off from work recently but I'm going back on the job next Monday morning." John Mahrenholz, residing in Benninghoff avenue, said recently. "I believe Trutona is going to entirely relieve me of my troubles," he added.

"I've had a severe case of rheumatism for the past four or five years. My leg muscles would often cord up in knots as big as eggs under my knees. I had the same trouble with my collar bone. Large lumps frequently formed on my temples and hurt me so badly I couldn't bear to wear my hat.

"I knew of several people who had been benefited by Trutona and then I decided to try it. My improvement certainly has been rapid. The knotty formations under my knees have disappeared and the lumps on my temples don't bother me any more. I can wear my hat without pain now. I'm glad to publicly thank Trutona and I recommend it to all."

Trutona quickly expels the impurities from the system, rebuilds worn nerves and tissues. Trutona is well named the perfect tonic, because it rapidly tones up the entire system, making healthy life-loving men and women of people who formerly were weak, run down and ill.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

Diamond Cut Diamond

CHAPTER X.

A Prisoner.

"Alone at last!" That was my first feeling as I sank into my easy chair to collect my thoughts—alone with a million dollars' worth of diamonds—alone!

What Was I to Do?

on the sixth floor with monsieur occupying lawfully the flat directly under mine! And what was I to do?

Obviously, the first thing was to hide them, and since they'd been safe once in the hyacinths I wasn't going to tempt fate by changing the place. So I put my fresh bunch in water, poked the diamonds among the stems and threw the old bunch away.

Soon done—but my real problem lay in barricading myself so that monsieur could not get in again. Remember, he had the use of the same fire escape and dumb-waiter shaft, to say nothing of the hall stairs—he could come and go in the house as he pleased.

The dumb-waiter I counted out because I could easily wire-up the catch and make it impossible for anyone to open the door from the shaft side without actually breaking the door off its hinges—a most unlikely thing for monsieur to attempt.

Fortunately, I kept a kit of tools in the house—I'm not one of your helpless women who can't drive a nail or sink a screw—and my next act was to take the small chain-bolt that had been on the front door and put it on the hall-side of the kitchen door. Then I changed the keys on this and the bathroom doors to the hall side. From the fire escape, monsieur could enter only those two rooms, and with their doors locked—and one chain-bolted—on him, he would have to break them off their hinges to get at me that way.

The bathroom window didn't give me much concern. The sash was stuck fast by the last painting and I couldn't raise it myself, the glass was too thick to be cut readily and I didn't believe monsieur would advertise himself to the neighborhood by breaking it. But I drove a couple of nails above the sash just for luck and then gave my attention to the kitchen window.

Since he'd gone out that way, he'd very likely try it to come back by. The glass was thin—he could cut it out easily; he could even smash it and come through so quickly that nobody would see him. But all right, monsieur, thought I, I'm going to give you your money's worth—I'll make you stand on the fire escape long enough for the neighbors to get a good look at you.

I had a couple of rolls of picture wire and I tacked this across the sash—not across the frame, because I didn't want to find myself wired in while he was wired out. The wire made a considerable network, almost impossible to get through without a pair of wire nippers, and I doubted very much if he'd be carrying such things in his pocket; and when I had nailed down the sash, as I have said, in the bathroom I felt secure in my retreat. There was now no way for a man to get in while I was in—unless, that is, he came down from the roof on a rope to one of the other windows. I thought of that and got ready to knock him off with a broom or throw pepper in his eyes if he tried that trick on me. And at last I felt I was safe—so long as I stayed in, of course!

All the time I'd been working, my mind had pounded out dully the question, "What had I better do next?" and the only answer seemed to be I must get help from some one—I had passed the point where I could play a lone hand in the game and save the diamonds. I had tried to telephone several times without getting an answer, which at the moment didn't astonish me. It provoked me, though, that I could not order something from the grocer and the butcher for my dinner. I go out to dinner, but tonight, even had I been so minded, I dared not leave the flat.

Outside the drizzle had settled to a steady downpour. It was dark and gloomy and my feelings were the same as I opened some canned stuff and got as much of a meal as I could with what was in the house. I think it was the skimpiness of the larder at the time that showed me as much as anything else how important it was for me now to get help—I had food enough to last for a couple of days, and after that—if things kept on this way—how was I to get it?

Billy Rivers was, of course, my logical resource. He had seen the flat the night before—he could start all the protective machinery in the city for me. With this resolution, I went to the telephone. It was "dead."

The full magnitude of my calamity burst upon me and I sat down on the nearest chair with a flop. The bitter fact of the whole situation struck me like a blow on the head—I'd let every chance for protection or flight go by me; the one remaining chance was a letter entrusted to my spy. Well, I'd try that, anyway.

I spent an hour in composing a missive to Billy that would tell him a great deal and monsieur nothing—if it fell into his hands—and this is what came out of it:

"Dear Billy: I'm ready to sell you that story I promised. It is now nearly finished, but I shall need some help from you in arranging the climax. Don't waste time telephoning—the telephone is out of order—but attend to it personally. This is an ambulance call."

It all hinged on the words "ambulance call" and if Billy would read them "hurry up," and then, taking them in connection with what he'd seen of the flat robbery, read, "My life is in danger."

And would monsieur see it if the letter fell into his hands? That was my risk—and there you are!

I made three copies. I directed one to Billy at his office—I inclosed one in a letter to Philadelphia to my brother asking him to mail it there—I dropped the third, carelessly, into the manuscript of a short story, sent to a magazine, hoping the editor would think it an accident and kindly mail it for me.

It was half past ten and I was fagged out. My last chance had come. "Would George mail the letters?" I got a quarter out for him—I was afraid to give him more and make him think the letters were important and not the sort of thing he mailed for me almost every night.

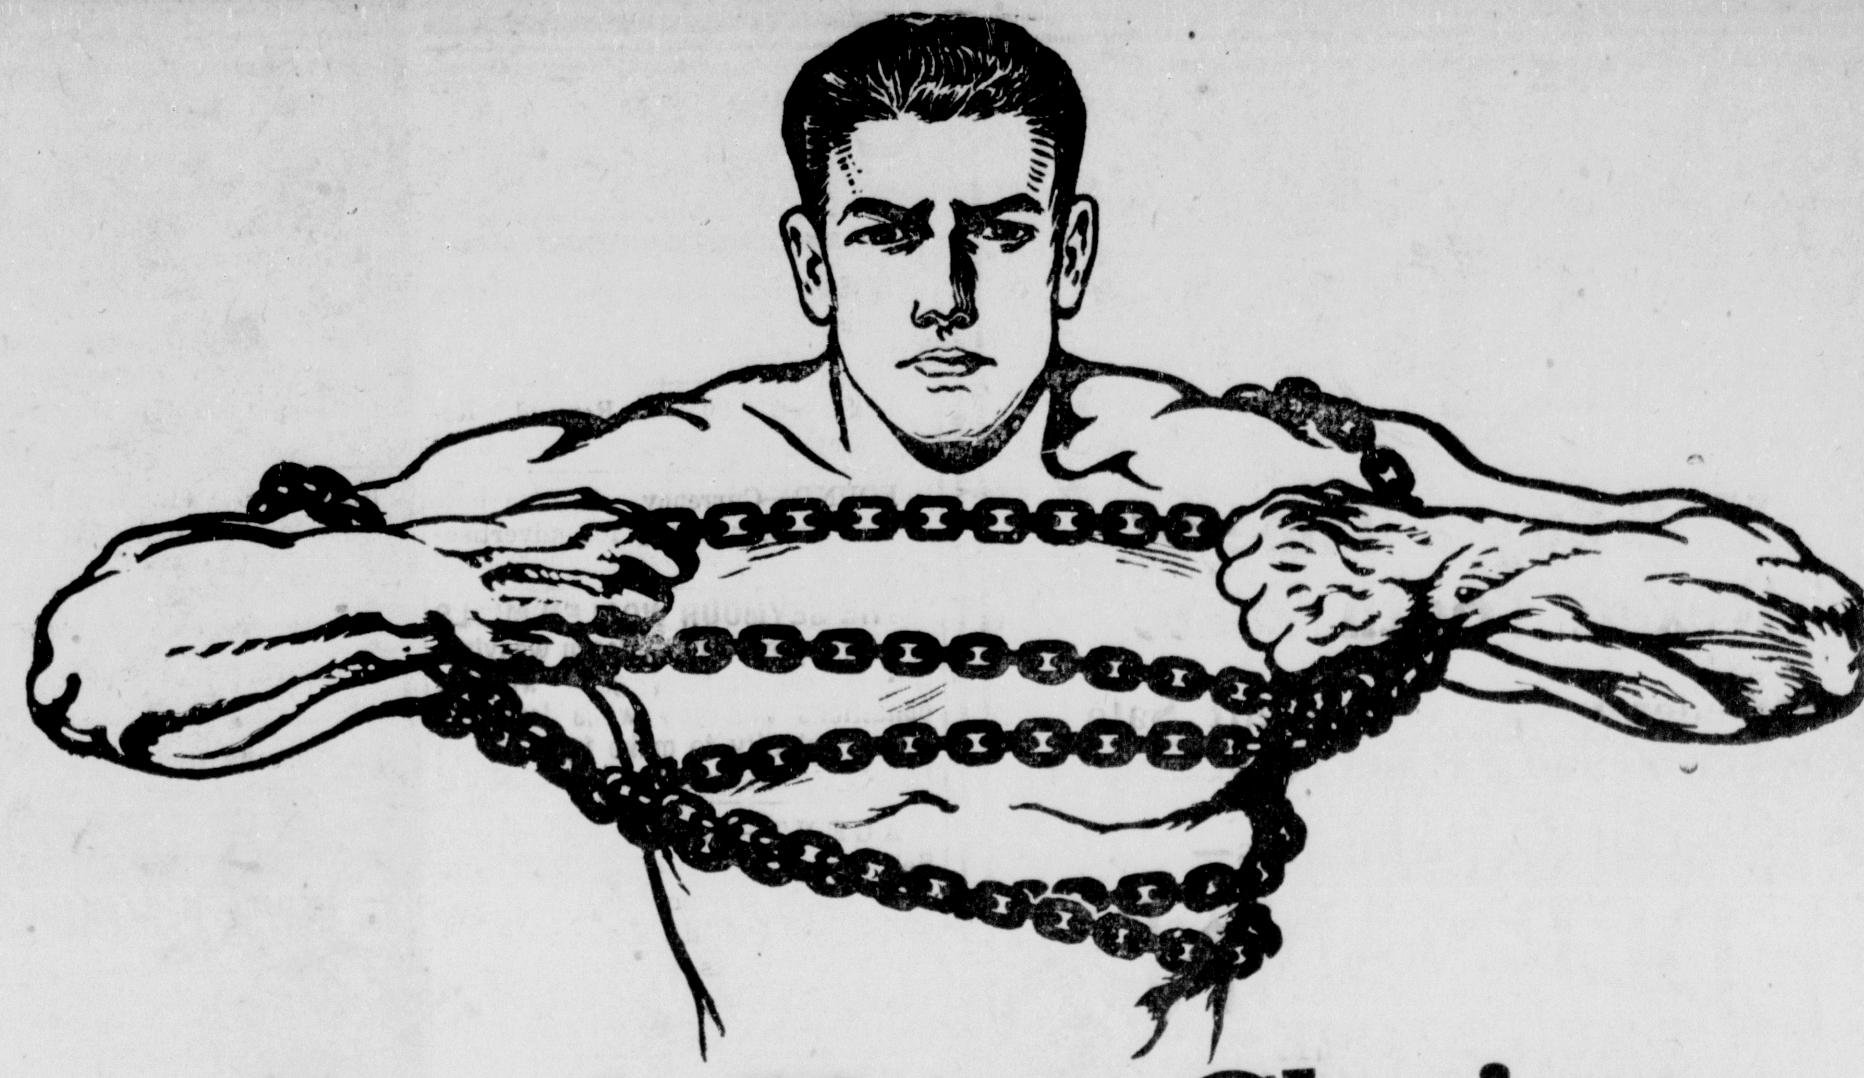

I dragged one weary foot after the other along the hall—I hated to let the letters out of my hands now that I had them ready. "Well, he's got to do it!" said I firmly, and took hold of the door knob and the Yale latch.

I turned and pulled; turned the other way round and pulled again. I was locked in from the outside and the key was in the lock! I was fast and fast a prisoner in my own flat!

The immediate effect on me of this discovery is hard to describe. My head swam and the room went round, and everything was all mixed up, and I kept repeating: "Fire! If there's a fire tonight I'll be burned like a rat in a trap!"

And with that I went to bed—there was nothing else to do.

I was nearly as much astonished in the morning to find the key gone from the lock as I had been to find it there. Apparently I was free to take that eleven o'clock train for Philadelphia that the fake telegram from my

Break Your Chains Be Strong and Well

Why drag along through life—half-sick, weak and tired out all the time. You can be strong and well—full of energy and vitality—glowing with health, and thrilled with the joy of life. You can enjoy life.

Rich, healthy blood makes the whole body healthy.

Nature intended that everyone should be strong and well, and there is no mystery about Nature's laws.

Oxygen is the life giver—necessary to maintain life. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly oxidizing or revitalizing the red blood cells—and increasing the amount of hemoglobin in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell, of the nerves, tissues, brain and bones.

REOLO Makes Rich Red Blood

If the supply of oxygen is not sufficient, the engine runs down, vital force wanes, the fire goes out, and the whole machinery of the body stops. When the blood is vitalized with oxygen, the complicated structure of the cells of the body is broken down, and the energy liberated which serves to drive the human engine.

REOLO acts on the blood, and by constantly cleansing and revitalizing it converts the blood into a vigilant guard against the insidious attacks of disease. It assists every natural force in the body. It makes it possible for the blood to build up what the stress of daily activity, overwork, over-exertion and overtaxing of the body tears down. Waste products are cast out—new cells grow—the hollow cheeks fill out and take on the ruddy glow of health. The spring comes back to the step, the whole body tingles with health and vitality—and the brain is cleared to meet the battle with the problems of life.

By special arrangement with the Dr. A. L. Reusing Laboratories, Akron, Ohio, we have been appointed Licensees for the distribution of REOLO—direct from the laboratories, certified by Dr. Reusing and positively guaranteed to give satisfactory results or we'll gladly refund your money. brother had requested me to—was was free to put the diamonds in my stocking and step out into the Great Unknown! Only—I wasn't such a fool as to do it! I could and did, however, give George my letters to mail.

One thing was now clear to me—as long as I stayed in the flat I was comparatively safe—I must make my main play that Billy had got my letter or that somebody would call. Though of course George would say I was out—he was paid for that by monsieur.

In this manner of living—afraid to go out and being unable to communicate even with the grocer—two days wore away; to be exact, from Tuesday night to Friday morning. And they were enlivened by some interesting experiences. On the second night I was awakened by the sound of a latchkey working at my front door. I tiptoed into the hall and listened. I can't say I was frightened. The chain-bolt was on and the only way it could be got off was by first shutting the door tight—which meant it could not be worked back with a wire. I had seen to that when the locksmith put it in.

Nothing came of this attempt to fit a key to my new lock, and I got comfort out of the thought that it proved monsieur regarded the fire escape as much too public for his performances.

WEATHER REPORT

Part cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

F. L. Huntoon will leave tonight for Texas on business in connection with the Seymour Furniture Company.

Will Able returned to Washington, D. C., Monday after spending a short vacation here with his mother, Mrs. Maria Able and family. He is employed in the government bonding department.

Miss Lottie Thomas, assistant in the Commercial department of the high school, has as her guest her mother, of Greencastle, who is spending several days in the city. Buford Thomas, a brother of Seymour, was in the city for a few hours while enroute to Chicago on business—Vincennes Sun.

Mrs. N. M. Carlson, Mrs. T. C. Smith, Mrs. Jay C. Smith, Mrs. S. H. Huffman, Mrs. L. B. Hill, Mrs. T. E. Ross, Mrs. Harvey Greenman and Mrs. T. R. Carter of this city attended the meeting of the Brownstown Baptist Associational Missionary Society which was held today at Tampico.

In a letter to his mother and sister, W. E. Ellis, who is in the aviation service of the United States army, stated that he had been transferred from an eastern camp to Ross Field at Arcadia, Cal. He reported having had a wonderful trip through the western states. He made the trip with a company of soldiers and they stopped at Salt Lake City, Utah, where the men were given an opportunity to go bathing in the Sulphur Springs.

Miss Grace Love received a message this morning from North Platte, Neb., that her nephew, Gordon Love, had received serious injury to one of his eyes in the railroad shops at that place and had been taken to the Methodist hospital at Omaha, Neb., for treatment. The message stated that the attending physician had hopes of saving one of the eyes. Mr. Love formerly lived in Seymour and has visited here a number of times since moving away. His friends here hope that his injuries do not prove as serious as the message indicates.

FIVE VICTORIES FOR THE VALLONIA BASKETBALL TEAM

Reinbold Has Thirty-two Field Goals and Ten Foul Goals to Season's Credit.

The Vallonia basketball team which has been doing excellent work this season has five victories to its credit. The first team to meet defeat at Vallonia was Cortland with a score of 26-12. Medora was defeated 39-11 in the second game and Clearspring went down in defeat to Vallonia on October 6, 24-11. The next game was played at Cortland in which the Vallonia quintet won 18-4. The Salem-Vallonia game was the big surprise of the season, the latter defeating the Salem team, 28-23. Salem was confident of a victory and held a jubilee before the game, while Vallonia conducted its demonstration after the contest.

The lineup of the Vallonia team follows: S. Alldredge and H. Johnson, forwards; P. Reinbold, captain, center; O. Johnson and H. Shoemaker, guards; C. Gabbert, substitute.

Reinbold has to his credit this season thirty-two field goals and ten foul goals. Alldredge has fifteen field goals and one foul goal; H. Johnson, nine field goals and Shoemaker seven field goals. The team has made a total of 137 points against sixty-one scored by their opponents.

Vallonia has done some splendid playing, the team is fast and snappy, but the boys are handicapped in not having a gymnasium for practice. Basketball boosters at Vallonia are anxious to arrange for suitable playing and practice quarters before next season.
